VOLUME CVIII.--NO. 51. ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 28, 1907. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Eminent Doctors Praise Its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Diotca) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root), Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

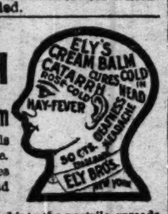
"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm



cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair growers.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

"OPEN SHOP" UPHELD.

The board of arbitration appointed to settle the difference between the journeymen plumbers and gasfitters' union and their employers in Washington yesterday rendered its decision, upholding the "open shop."

The master plumbers were without fault, says the decision in declaring the lockout of March 8, 1906, when the union refused to accept the resolutions of the conference committee of August 4, 1905, regarding "helpers."

The award declares that the journeymen who were members of Local Union No. 5 and who continued after the lockout in the employment of the master plumbers who were employing union men at the time, and who have since been suspended or expelled from the union, shall be reinstated if application is made within the next sixty days.

The award says that these men shall be restored to full membership without the payment of back dues which may have accrued during the time of their expulsion and without being subject to fines, assessments, or penalties for any part they may have taken during the lockout of March of last year. The journeymen who were employed by Mr. May during the Wardman strike are to be accorded the same privileges.

In all of the other particulars, the board concurred as a whole. The board rules that the journeymen have no right to refuse to work with an apprentice or helper because he had no card.

The individual members of the Master Plumbers' Association are not to be compelled to employ union men to the exclusion of nonunion men, and the journeymen are not to be compelled to work for the masters to the exclusion of non-members or for the masters who employ nonunion men.

It is estimated that the arbitration cost $6,000. James S. Easby-Smith, who represented the master plumbers, said yesterday:

"The decision is practically in favor of the 'open shop,' for the board decided that under the contract between the two unions the individual members of the Master Plumbers' Association are not compelled to employ union men to the exclusion of nonunion men. I consider the award of the board a very substantial victory not only for the master plumbers, but for all employers against unreasonable demands of unionism."

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, safe syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for croup, that's all. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

SENATOR BAILEY EXONERATED.

by a vote of 70 to 40, out of a possible 128 votes, 18 members being absent United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey on recommendation of a majority of an investigation committee, was exonerated by the lower house of the Texas legislature last night of any charges of irregular acts in public life as alleged by Representative Cocke, of the lower House, on January 14. Action which resulted in his exoneration was precipitated yesterday evening after three days of private consultation among House members and friends of Senator Bailey, and concludes six weeks of investigation that has required Senator Bailey's presence in Austin.

On Monday, by a vote of 15 to 11, the Senate exonerated Senator Bailey without waiting to hear the report of the investigating committee, and last night the House took like action to the extent of acting on the recommendation of a majority of the investigating committee for complete exoneration without the submission of the evidence.

The opponents of Senator Bailey pleaded to have the evidence submitted before voting, but the Bailey forces forced a vote and won exculpation.

The galleries of the House were crowded with spectators, many women being present, awaiting for hours the vote. Once Senator Bailey's exoneration was assured, the Senator addressed the House. He gave evidence of laboring under suppressed excitement, and delivered himself of a speech decidedly emphatic in dealing with those who have seen fit to oppose him during the investigation.

Senator Bailey leaves at once for Washington, where he goes to take the oath of office as Senator on March 4, having been re-elected by the legislature on January 22, while the investigation was progressing.

Charges Against U. S. Senator.

A tremendous sensation has been caused in Madrid by the publication of a story, credited to the Diario de la Marina, of Havana, which has published an article, based on documentary evidence, showing that the Senate of the United States was bought by Tomas Estrada Palma in 1897 to insure war being declared against Spain.

Bonds to the value of $37,000,000, redeemable when Cuba became independent, were issued to Senators in Washington. According to the Diario de la Marina a contract exists containing phrases analogous to the terms of the joint resolution of April, 1898, which was voted by Congress.

The value of these bonds referred to fell heavily in 1899, for which reason a new contract for $26,000,000 was made between Palma and the Senators. The Diario declared its intention to expose the whole history of the affair, so that the American Senate will be compelled to discuss it.

Inquiries made in ministeral and diplomatic quarters regarding the story elicited protestions of ignorance of anything beyond what was contained in the Diario's assertions, but in view of the gravity of the matter Count Salazar, minister of foreign affairs, has telegraphed to the Spanish representatives at Washington and Havana requesting the fullest information in the event of the Diario continuing the revelations.

Endorsed by the County.

"The most popular remedy in Otsego county, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. W. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an infallible cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases." Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Jamaicans Indignant.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 28.—Surprise, humiliation and indignation has been occasioned here by the official advices received today stating the disinclination of the imperial government to make a grant for the rebuilding of the stricken city. The British government has insisted on a guarantee before lending the million pounds desired. As a result of this action of the home government a committee is being organized of the leading business and professional men to prepare plans for making a direct appeal for aid to the American people. The newspapers comment at length on the necessity for this action, especially following the Davis-Swettenham incident, but admit that it is the only ray of hope left the earthquake victims unless the English government changes its attitude and the desired grant is forthcoming.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say the [illegible] an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Guaranteed under the food and drugs act, June 30 h. 1906. Serial number 1098.

HON. C. C. CARLIN.

The subject of this sketch, Charles C. Carlin, was born in Alexandria, April 8, 1866; his parents were the late William H., and Frances E. Carlin. His father was a Confederate soldier and died in 1870 from the effects of exposure in the army of the "Lost Cause," leaving a wife and four children.

At the early age of ten young Carlin had to begin to make his way in life, and assist his mother and sisters, as there was no pension for the soldiers of the Confederacy. He began life as an errand boy in a china store, at the munificent salary of 50c per week. In his spare moments he supplemented this work by selling newspapers, and turned over the proceeds of his labor to his mother. [illegible] his mother [illegible] early primary studies during his apprenticeship in the china store. When the telephone came to the city of Alexandria, he was offered a position in the exchange as night operator, when engaged in this work he entered the public schools, where he received the major portion of his education, afterwards attending for a short time the Alexandria Academy, of which William H. Greenwell was principal. His usefulness to the Telephone Company was such that by the time he reached 16 years of age, he was taken by Superintendent W. T. Gentry, with him to Atlanta, Georgia. It was through Mr. Gentry's agency that he was first appointed in the Telephone Exchange in Alexandria; his attendance at the Methodist Sunday School, attracted the attention of that gentleman, who was his teacher. He was afterwards made manager of the Rome, Ga., Telephone Exchange.

He saved sufficient from his salary to justify him in returning to Alexandria in 1885, when he began the study of law at the National Law University in Washington, D. C., from which school he graduated with honors. While studying law, he acted as Deputy Treasurer of the City of Alexandria, in the office of Mr. M. B. Harlow, who was at that time Treasurer. The late Judge Charles E. Stuart appointed him Commissioner of Accounts of the Corporation Court. Immediately upon graduating he began the practice of law in Alexandria and has continued in the practice.

When 25 years old he married Miss Lillian Broders, daughter of the late Joseph Broders, one of the most prominent business men of the City of Alexandria.

In 1892 he was elected a member of the Board of Aldermen from the Third Ward of the city, and while serving in that capacity was appointed by President Cleveland, Post-Master of the city. When he entered upon the duties of Post Master he found the most important position in the office that of Assistant Post-master, held by a Republican, and although a large number of the leading citizens petitioned him to retain the assistant in office, Mr. Carlin held that the same reasons which applied to the removal of the Republican Post-Master, applied to the removal of the assistant, and therefore he appointed a Democratic ex-Confederate soldier to the office.

While Post-Master, Mr. Carlin continued to practice law. In 1896, although having been appointed by Mr. Cleveland to the important position he then held, Mr. Carlin actively, earnestly, and warmly supported William Jennings Bryan for President, as his party's nominee. From his majority he has taken an active part in politics, City, State, and National, and has been prominent in the Conventions of the District and State, and in 1904 was Elector for the Eighth Congressional District, in which capacity he stumped the entire District, his speeches being among the most able and eloquent delivered in that campaign in this section.

Although frequently urged to accept nominations for other offices, Mr. Carlin has declined the same, preferring to abide his time until the people of his district knew him sufficiently well and had the confidence in his ability to honor him in the position he now seeks.

During this period of Mr. Carlin's life he was Alexandria correspondent of The Washington Post, a position which he filled with credit and retained until his law practice justified in relinquishing it to a more needy friend. While connected with The Post he won the esteem and friendship of the late Beriah Wilkins, the owner and editor of that paper, against whose advice he gave up journalism for the law. It was many months before he was employed in his new profession. His first case was a divorce suit of little or no moment, except to the immediate parties. It was important to him, however, as his success both in his handling of it and in its termination, brought the attention, not only of his brother lawyers, but the public to his promising career.

He has since, by bent of industry and close application to his profession, steadily risen until he is now regarded as one of the leading lawyers of Virginia and in his native city is known, admired and respected by everyone.

Mr. Carlin has kept constantly in touch with public men and affairs, and has an acquaintance among the prominent men of the State and Nation second to no man in Virginia.

It is said of him that he never fails to keep a promise. While slow to make one, his word once given is his bond, and consequently he has won the confidence of those high in public favor and all who know him throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. Carlin is a prominent member of the Masons, Odd Fellows, and Elks. He has hosts of friends in these Orders, and has, on a number of occasions, taken a prominent part in and addressed the various celebrations of the Masons and Elks.

Among the warmest supporters of his nomination are his old schoolmates and the acquaintances of his boyhood days, to whom he has endeared himself by his cordial treatment and loving disposition.

He is noted for his readiness to help old friends and is determined to stand by them no matter how many new ones he makes.

Mr. Carlin is an able, eloquent and fluent speaker, is quick at repartee, bright in debate and rarely loses an opportunity to floor his opponent.

The Eighth Congressional District needs a man upon the flood of the House of Representatives who has these qualities, and the further quality of making friends, for the faculty of making friends among associates in Congress is one that brings success to a Congressman. What is wanted is a good mixer, and Mr. Carlin belongs to this class. He is a hard worker, a congenial companion, and a man of the soundest Democratic principles. He is to be relied upon and one whom, after he gets in the House of Representatives, will not only make his mark, but will serve the District most thoroughly, most devotedly, and we doubt not most successfully.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 28, 1907.

ANOTHER time-honored institution, the English barmaid, is about to pass away. A bill has been introduced in the British House of Commons with the object of making the tending of bars illegal for all women, except publican's wives and daughters, and empowering authorities to refuse a license unless men only are employed. The barmaid runs through hundreds of years of English history, and her abolition is resented not only by the comely young woman herself, but by a large majority of the patrons of public houses. The literature and miscellany of England contain many references to the barmaid, and "Dolly of the Chop House," and her assistants have become figures in history. In fact a modern public house now stands upon the site once occupied by her hostelry, and thousands visit the place yearly on account of the interesting history connected with the place. Barmaids, still wait upon the patrons of "Ye Old Cheshire Cheese," the ancient tavern where Johnson, Boswell, Goldsmith and others were wont to gather and exchange notes over bowls of hot Scotch. But times change, and the neatly-attired lassies who have for centuries filled glasses for patrons of public houses in all English cities are doomed to become as Othello.

THE REVELATIONS made by Harriman during his examination have caused a flutter in monetary centres, and while there are no evidences of an approaching panic, there is a tremor which shows that confidence is not as pronounced as that of a few weeks ago. The fact that alleged gilt-edged securities have steadily declined is ominous. Operators on Wall street, New York, in their efforts to allay apprehension, call attention to the fact that the recent revelations in insurance circles caused no serious disturbance in the business of the country. They further say that had not the Harriman expose been made, the financial markets of the country would doubtless have been convulsed and a wave of distrust might have settled over the country which would have brought to a sudden stop the present prosperous conditions so often the cause of boasting. There is no telling what may yet happen. The investigation of Harriman is still in progress, and as long as it continues and the naked facts concerning him and his associates are revealed, the stocks bolstered up by them will deteriorate in value. These may in turn affect other securities and bring about a state of affairs from which the country would be years recuperating.

THE LOWER house of the Texas legislature last night, as had previously the Senate of that State, exonerated Senator Joseph W. Bailey of the charges recently made against him concerning alleged questionable relations with representatives of the Standard Oil Company. The many friends of Senator Bailey who never have believed that gentleman, statesman as he is, would have deliberately and knowingly placed himself under obligation to a rapacious corporation which he had antagonized, rejoice with him in his vindication. A man of natural-born sagacity, experience and observation, after having attained the political position of the Senator would certainly not have knowingly jeoparded them by any questionable relations with a concern which doubtless have others in representative positions under their thumbs. But an imputation once cast upon the integrity of a public man is hard to efface, as so many people prefer to believe the worst in connection with such aspersions. But the majority of the people of Texas believe that Mr. Bailey is innocent. He is their Senator, and that should end the matter, but the unfortunate affair notwithstanding has cast a shadow which will probably follow the great Texan throughout life.

THE IDEA of preventing reproduction of insane persons is contained in a bill before the Wisconsin legislature, which proposes to create an examining board of three persons: a physician, a lawyer and a neurologist. Their duty would be to pass upon the condition of imbeciles and hopelessly insane, and to perform the operation of sterilization. At the same time, the State board controlling insane asylums and prisons has recommended the penalty of sterilization for criminal assault. Such a course was proposed in Delaware and passed one branch of the legislature but, unfortunately, the other branch killed it.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Feb. 28.

The Aldrich financial bill, which was passed by the Senate Tuesday, will be considered and probably adopted in the House before the close of the session. The House leaders, including Speaker Cannon, have given assurances that there shall be prompt action upon it, and it is understood that there is practically unanimity on the republican side in its favor. Financial interests in New York and elsewhere believe the measure will afford means of relief in times of scarce money.

Together with his associate, John B. McDonald, of New York, Mr. W. J. Oliver intends preparing a full publication showing how he was led to believe that he would get the contract for the construction of the Panama canal and therefore went to great expense to perfect his bid and secure the necessary financial and professional backing demanded by the administration. Mr. Oliver was informed by one of his friends that only a few days ago the positive statement was made in official quarters that he would get the contract.

The Senators and Representatives are now being deluged with telegrams from all parts of the country urging them to support the Murphy amendment to the hours of labor bill, which seeks to shorten the hours of labor of railway telegraphers. The railway men had their innings recently. Strange to relate the railway managers are responsible for the deluge.

The story from Madrid to the effect that Thomas Estrada Palma bought the Congress of the United States to declare war on Spain by distributing $37,000,000 of Cuban bonds among the Senators and Representatives, is regarded here as ridiculous.

Ship subsidy advocates are claiming today that the Senate will adopt any proposition that the House may succeed in getting through. A final vote is to be had in the House on Friday at three o'clock. If passed, the measure will be sent direct to the Senate and a conference undoubtedly arranged during Friday night's session.

The President today nominated James Carter as postmaster of Chatham, Va.

SENATE.

The Senate today agreed to the conference report on the military academy bill

The Senate passed the bill today giving the Norfolk and Portsmouth Traction Company a right of way through a military reservation.

Mr. Hale cried a halt upon governmental aid to expositions. He protested against the passing of the bill providing for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle in 1909. Mr. Hale said he believed the country had had enough of expositions.

The Senate passed the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific-Exposition bill. It cannot get through the House of Representative this Congress.

The Senate also passed the joint resolution from the House, accepting an invitation to attend the opening of the Jamestown (Va) Exposition April 26.

HOUSE.

In the busy hour after the House met today, Representative Sulzer made an unsuccessful attempt to get the House to consider his resolution to have the Secretary of the Treasury report on the varying rates of interest on call money in the New York banks. Speaker Cannon, who has taken the stiff bit in his teeth, quickly declared that it was not entitled to privileged consideration.

Charges Against Fish.

At the interstate commerce hearing in New York on Tuesday Mr. Harriman, when asked why he had deposed Stuyvesant Fish from the presidency of the Illinois Central Railroad, said it was because time and time again Mr. Fish had deposited funds of the railroad in large amounts with the Trust Company of the Republic and its successor, the Commonwealth Trust Company, to enable the company to bolster up its accounts and make a good showing of its affairs. He said that upon one occasion President Fish had so deposited $500,000 belonging to the Illinois Central, and that he (Mr. Harriman) had been informed by the officials of the trust company that the withdrawal of this amount all at once would mean bankruptcy. The money was then drawn out gradually.

Mr. Harriman also said: "In addition Mr. Fish loaned himself a large amount of money without, I believe, the knowledge of the directors. I personally loaned Fish $1,200 000 to help him out, so he could take up various obligations. The trouble with Mr. Fish was that he looked upon the Illinois Central as his personal property."

During the investigation Mr. Harriman said: "There is no other country in the world where the business interests are so antagonized by the government at this one.

In reply Commissioner Lain said: There is no other government in the world that has given so much land and money to the railroads as this one.

Mr. Harriman said: "But there is no other country in which railroads have improved the country as in this country."

The Comptroller of the Rock Island Railroad, yesterday testified in the Harriman investigation that that road was mortgaged up to the limit and that its treasury was empty. What the Rock Island got in the deal with the Harriman interests was brought out.

The mortgaging of a railroad which was not built, and for which no funds had been provided, was testified to.

The $22,000,000 bonds, it was stated, were turned over to the syndicate which delivered the Alton stock in the reorganization.

Two members of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. were Union Pacific directors while earning huge commissions on deals in securities for the Union Pacific.

Since July 17 last, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have been buying back Northern Pacific and Great Northern from the Union Pacific, in all $40,000,000, paying more than the market price.

This firm sold 105,000 shares of Illinois Central to the Union Pacific at 175, although offered 200 by other parties, because of the firm's "love for the Union Pacific."

Mr. Harriman refused to answer questions as to his personal transactions in stocks.

Stuyvesant Fish yesterday replied to accusations made by E. H. Harriman and declared that all transactions in which he engaged will bear the closest scrutiny.

The Thaw Case.

In the Thaw trial in New York yesterday Mr. Jerome's cross-examination of Dr. Evans, alienist for defense, indicated that the prosecution is preparing to ask for a lunacy commission. Evans admits Thaw's mind unsound at time of the marriage, and that there is a possibility of the condition recurring. Dr. Evans was quizzed by the District Attorney as to his knowledge of insanity, and held his own under the questioning. A number of questions asked with the apparent view of humiliating the witness were prevented by Court's sustaining objections by Delmas. Asked if he had the written permission of his board of directors to testify, Dr. Evans informed Jerome that it was none of his business.

The State announced that if will call Dr. Hamilton, defense's former expert, who is credited with saying Thaw is still insane.

Paul Morton and all of the other retiring officers of the Equitable Life Assurance Society were re-elected at the annual meeting of the board of directors in New York today.

News of the Day.

The decision was reached at a conference at the White House yesterday to continue the prosecution of the tobacco trust begun sometime ago.

One of the most fashionable weddings in Washington for sometime was the marriage yesterday of Miss India Bell Vedder Fleming, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Robert I. Fleming, to Don Luis F. Cores, the Nicaraguan minister to the United States.

Because they failed to see a backing locomotive and did not hear the flagman when he called to them, three trackhand, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad were killed shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the yard of that road in Baltimore. Two of the men were cut in half.

The Senate passed a number of District bills late yesterday afternoon, the most important of which was one appropriating $10,000,000 for the purchase of the mall land south of Pennsylvania avenue, from Fifteenth street to the Botanic Gardens, for the government, to be used as sites for future public buildings. It is considered hardly likely that it will pass the House at this session.

It is announced that Mr. Shallenberger will soon retire as Second Assistant Postmaster General, and that he will be succeeded by Representative McCleary; also that Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden will tender his resignation before March 4, and that the President will name as his successor some member of the House who was not re-elected last November. Postmaster General Cortelyou will appoint Alexander Grant to succeed James E. White as superintendent of the railway mail service. Mr. Grant has been assistant superintendent for several years.

For the first time in recent history the British House of Commons last night adopted a motion in favor of the disestablishment and disendowment of the established church in England and Wales. The motion was made by Mr. Everett, a private member, and the government did not take any responsibility for it. Mr. Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, was the only minister who spoke in support of the motion. He explained that his views were personal. The motion was carried by a vote of 198 to 90. The only previous division in the house on the question of disestablishment was in 1871, when it was rejected by a vote of 374 to 89.

Jim May, well-known gambler, won $35,000 on a single play at the roulette wheel at Reno, Nev., Tuesday night. Had the dealer allowed him to make his next play he would have won $1,225,000. May had played faro all night, and was $10,000 to the bad when he walked to the wheel, and rolling up a $1,000 bill, placed it on the four spot. The dealer, supposing it was only $100, took off the limit and turned the wheel. The lucky number came. May then placed his marker for $35,000 on 17, but the dealer refused the bet. A bystander placed $1 on 17, and the number came. This is the largest winning ever made at a single play in Reno.

Virginia News.

Miss Mary Malady, daughter of John Malady, of Winchester, died at the Georgetown University Hospital yesterday morning from burns sustained by her clothing igniting while standing near a stove in her apartments, three weeks ago.

Ex-policeman William T. Gentry was arrested in Richmond yesterday upon a warrant charging him with criminal assault upon Miss Josie Robertson, a 16-year-old girl, who arrived in Richmond yesterday from Buckingham county on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Joseph Steiff, who lives on Federal street. Gentry, it is charged, volunteered to conduct the girl to the home of her sister, but, instead of taking her there, he took her to a disreputable house conducted by a colored man.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday the conference report on the river and harbor bill was agreed to and many bills on the calendar were passed.

The Senate passed the bill introduced by Mr. Daniel, of Virginia, to carry into effect Mr. Roosevelt's idea to make the Nobel peace prizethat was awarded him recently, the foundation for the promotion of industrial peace.

The Senate passed the expatrition bill authorizing the issuance of passports to persons intending to become citizens of the United States.

The House agreed to the conference report on the river and harbor bill and continued discussion of the ship-subsidy bill.

The House accepted the formal invitation of the exposition, company to attend the formal opening of the tercentennial of the settlement of Jamestown, April 26, and adopted a resolution offered by Mr. Maynard, that ten Senators and fifteen Representatives of the Fifty-ninth Congress be appointed to attend the same.

A night session was held for the purpose of permitting debate on the ship-subsidy bill, consideration of which subject also consumed much of the daylight session.

Congress has cleared up most of the larger measures, leaving only the general deficiency bill to be reported.

Chickens.

If X, who styles himself a chicken fancier, were one in the true sense he would readily see how easy it is for one with so few hens to distinguish the separate hen's eggs, but if that does not satisfy him he can come to 912 Prince street at 10:50 a. m. tomorrow and I will show him the champion layer on the nest, and if he will wait there for 15 minutes inside of that time I can show him the egg that I think will beat the trap nest of his expert friends. When he has gotten the hen question down that fine then he may use the word fancier with a true meaning as to all Barred Rocks laying brown eggs, especially registered stock. I have some that I bought as such that have never laid a brown egg and very few of that kind they do lay.

Explosion.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb 28.—One man is dead and a number injured, some believed to be fatally, as the result of an explosion of the Eliza Furnace of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Co. here today. The accident was caused by a "slip," resulting from an overloaded furnace, and the victims were caught beneath a rain of molten metal and the white hot bricks.

THE STROTHERS TRIAL.

When the Gazette's report of the trial of the Strother brothers in Culpeper closed yesterday Mrs. Bywaters was still on the stand.

Mrs. Bywaters denied that there was any quarrel in the room before the shooting, and said that her brothers had shown great friendship for Bywaters.

At 1:02 o'clock Mrs. Bywaters had concluded her testimony, and was taken in hand by the acting prosecuting attorney, John A. C Keith. Mr Keith was, in his cross-examination, unable to shake the testimony of the young woman and in the main she practically reiterated her original story.

The largest crowd of the week attended the afternoon session. Standing room became impossible because of the inability of witnesses to pass in and out of the building. Judge Harrison again ordered the courtroom cleared, and the trial proceeded behind closed doors.

G. French Strother, brother of the defendants, was the first witness called, and proved a good witness. He told of his meeting his brother in Welch, W. Va., who requested that he return to Culpeper immediately. Upon further inquiry he said his brother informed him that their sister Viola had left home and they were trying to locate her.

"When I arrived home," he said, "I found much to arouse by suspicions, but Viola denied that she had ever been intimate with Bywaters. She left the room about this time, and I noticed some blood spots on the floor. When my sister returned I continued to question her, and finally I insisted that Bywaters was the guilty man.

"She still denied it, and I stated to her that if she did not tell me the truth I would find it out if I had to employ detectives to do it. She then suggested that I let Bywaters come to the house. I 'honed for him, and he came. Entering the house by the rear door, Bywaters offered me his hand, but I declined it. I told him that there was something that I desired to know before I shook hands with him. When I said this he laughed. I told him it was not a laughing matter. Again he smiled, and seemed to be surprised, at the same time remarking that he had done nothing wrong, and could prove it. I replied that I would be the happiest man in the world if he could. Still in my presence Bywaters denied that he had ever had any improper relations with Viola, and said that if anyone would attempt to outrage the Strother family he would be the first to kill him. He referred to the fact that he had a sister, and that he would kill the man who would harm her. From this I myself thought that I had been mistaken. About this time my sister, Mrs. Gaines, came in and accused Bywaters, but he remarked that the charge could not be proven.

"As both Bywaters and Viola continued to deny that they had improper relations with each other, I was determined to get at the truth of the matter so I 'honed for Dr. Chelf and Dr. Johnson Strother. Bywaters, until I told him that I proposed to have Viola examined, seemed happy, and I found him in an adjoining room smoking a cigarette. When he found out what I was determined to do he said there was no need for a physician, but to send to Culpeper and get something for Viola. All this time," continued the witness, "Bywaters still denied that he had done wrong and said that if I would take him again in the presence of Viola he would prove his innocence. I did so, and then it was that he acknowledged his guilt to me. I reminded him of what he had said. He replied that he ought to be killed, but begged for his life, and so did Viola. He said that he was willing to marry her and had always been willing, but she was not. I told him that I did not want him to marry my sister, as he had treated her worse than a brute. He continued to plead for his life and declared that he only wanted an opportunity to show his love for Viola.

"I still refused and said it was my duty to kill him, but on account of Viola I did finally consent, but it was out of consideration for my sister, as I had no faith in him. At the same time I gave Bywaters to understand that if he ever mistreated or deserted Viola after he did marry her I would hunt him up and kill him."

Witness said that he then went to Culpeper, and after a consultation with his other brothers it was decided that the marriage should take place the next day.

He further stated that he was not present at the wedding nor did he know anything of the shooting of Bywaters, as he was in Culpeper at the time.

The witness was dismissed without being cross-examined by the prosecuting attorney.

Mrs. Helen Gaines, sister of the Strother boys, was next called, and she related many incidents leading up to the shooting. She testified to the condition that Viola Bywaters was in prior to the marriage and of the frequent denials by both her sister and Bywaters that any improper relations existed between them. Mrs. Gaines also referred to the quarrel she had with Bywaters on the night of the shooting and of the words that passed between the husband of her sister and Mr. Gaines.

In answer to a question propounded by Mr. Moore, counsel for the defense, witness said that after Bywaters had insisted on going to Culpeper, her brothers, James and Phil Strother, told him if he attempted to leave the house that night they would kill him. Mrs. Gaines said that she did not see the shooting, but is under the impression that one shot was fired by Phil Strother while Bywaters was attempting to escape down the rear stairway.

It is probable that Miss Bessie Strother, another sister of the prisoners, will be placed upon the stand today. It is also probable that the prisoners will be called as witnesses either this afternoon or Friday morning.

Counsel for the prosecution recalled Mrs. Nellie Gaines to the stand when court convened this morning.

Captain Wood could elicit nothing from Mrs. Gaines and she was excused.

Defendant James Strother was then called.

He said he was thirty-seven years old, a lawyer, and member of the West Virginia Legislature. He has a wife and two children. His residence is in Welch, W. Va. Asked if he received any communication from his brother Phil, he read the following letter:

"My Dear Brother: — Please come home at once. It is very necessary that you come here immediately. Don't be alarmed by this, but come at once. Keep this to yourself, and wire me on what train you are coming. Your devoted brother. PHIL."

James said upon his arrival here Phil told him of having seen Bywaters leaving Viola's room. Witness said he took the matter up with Viola, but she swore that everything was right and proper. This was on November 24.

Defendant said he told his sister he intended talking to Bywaters, and asked why he was in the room, but she beged him not to do it.

Several days later James and Philip met Bywaters on the road, but did not mention their suspicions. James said he advised his relatives to keep silent, but watch for developments. He returned to Welch. Later he received a letter from Viola asking for $25, saying she wanted to go to Washington and visit a school friend.

On December 12 James received the following telegram:

"Come to Culpeper immediately. Wire when to meet you."

He met French Strother and the two came to Culpeper and were informed that Bessie Strother had received a letter from Viola saying she was sick in Washington. Two days later Viola came to Culpeper and went to Strotherwood. James talked with her about the family's suspicions and her visit to Dr. Walters' office in Washington. She denied having been there.

The next morning French and Nellie talked with Viola but she denied everything. When pressed by all her brothers and sisters she said if Bywaters came out he could explained all. James summoned Drs. Strother and Chelf to Strotherwood to attend Viola, who was suffering intensely. James said he next saw Faench in town and the latter told him of the confession of Viola and Bywaters.

Going home James went to his sister's room and found her in what he thought was a dying condition.

She was crying and confessed to James. He remarked:

"This is a terrible thing," and left the room. He then talked with Phill and Nellie about a wedding. Witness told of assisting Nellie in destroying evidences of the operation to keep knowledge from the servant.

"French told me he wanted the marriage to take place immediately. That Bywaters had agreed to marry her.

Defendant said he had a very distressing interview with Viola on Saturday morning.

He went fully into the nature of the relations to ascertain if Bywaters intentions were honorable.

"I told her Bywaters cared no more for her than he did for a rag or a dog but was using her for his own selfish purposes and ought to be killed," said James. "She begged that he be spared and be made to marry her."

Witness told of the arrangements for the marriage.

"Philip asked Bywaters" he said, "if he was willing to keep his promise of marriage, and he replied: 'Certainly.' We came to the court house to get the license. Bywaters halted at the door and asked for a postponement. Philip said to him: 'You don't have to marry my sister. We simply ask if you want to.' He finally agreed to an immediate wedding and we went into the clerk's office.

After telling of how Bywaters again tried to have the marriage postponed, he said the wedding took place. Viola was crying all the time, and she looked pitifully toward me. I bent down and kissed her, shook hands with Bywaters and went down stairs with Mr. Ware.

"Later, I went up stairs and sat down by the bed. I said to him: "Well, Viola is your wife, We turn her over to you. She is sick and you ought to be doubly kind to her for that reason. Then I told them of the financial arrangements and left the room.

When I went back to the room he said he was going home and had been talking to Viola about it.

"Will insisted on going to town, but I told him it was his duty to stay with his wife, and he ought not to leave her even if she was well. When he continued to insist I concluded that he wanted to leave my sister and get clear out of the country.

"Finally we arranged to have Phil come to town with him, but he would give no answer about coming back. Just then Nellie came, and we told her it was all over." They got into a controversy.

"He told her it was none of her business, none of Phil's business, and none of mine. Then Mr. Gaines told him he had violated obligation of an Odd Fellow and a gentlemen. He said: 'D—n yo nand the Odd Fellows. You're a—— I'll cut your throat.' We held him back, and told him we wanted no more of that because trouble meant exposure. Bywaters said: 'I'm going to town, and no one can make me stay.' Just then Viola sent for him. Phil followed him up.

"Later I went up and Bywaters was sitting by the bed. Viola had her arms around him. I said, 'We think you're going to leave. I want to tell you that you can't; we are going to watch you.' Nellie came to the door.

"Bywaters jumped up and jerked Viola out of the bed. He ran downstairs Gaines brought him back. Bywaters did not stop in the room. He ran to the window so quickly that I could hardly realize he was in the room. When he cleared the window sill Phil and I advanced on him and began firing.

"I think I fired two shots, I thought Bywaters had jumped to the ground. I ran down stairs and saw him getting ready to jump down from the porch. I fired again at him. Philip continued to fire and finally I heard Bywaters fall to the roof with a thud."

Witness said Philip did not get out on the porch. He declared all the shooting was on the roof. James said Viola was screaming like a maniac. He first realized that Bywaters was running away when the husband rushed by Mrs. Gaines and she shouted: "Boys, he's gone."

Today's Telegraphic News

Still After Harriman.

New York, Feb., 28.—While E. H. Harriman finished his testimony yesterday, the Interstate Commerce Commission in session here is still hot on his trail. They will first of all investigate further the most glaring incidents of Harriman's finance yet brought to light. This has to do with the 34 mile branch of the Chicago and Alton Railroad near Springfield, Ill. From one Wall street point of view, everything was done to make it a complete railroad. The Chicago and Alton issued more stock. On top of the stock bonds were issued covering the branch line; the bonds were sold and the money disbursed. Only one little detail was overlooked. The road was never built. When the Rock Island people bought the line they got the stocks and the bonds but no tracks, no cars, no locomotives, and no money. This revelation has made the commissioners eager to ask Harriman what is a railroad, anyway? Wall street is by no means unanimous as to the effect of these revelations. The large Harriman following sees the stock market demoralized and gilt-edged securities striking new low records every day. There is, however, a conservative element in the street which believes the exposure will be of eventual benefit. This element is of the opinion that Harriman and his associates are riding for a fall and if they had gone on unchecked there would have been a real panic and not a mere stock flurry as at present. No real American interest, they say, is likely to be affected by wholesale squeezing out of water from Harriman stocks. It is further pointed out by this element that the insurance revelations, instead of causing a panic, resulted in a healthier condition of business and the placing of insurance business on a sounder basis than it had been in years.

S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago and Alton Railway Company, since September, 1899, was the first witness called this morning. The commissioners concluded their testimony in the Harriman case today, it was announced that some further evidence might be presented later, but this winds up the hearing in New York.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Feb. 28.—Harry K. Thaw's trial today is in its vital stage. On the evidence of the alienists now being examined depends whether Thaw is to go free or be sent to the Matteawan asylum.

Information tending to prove that Evelyn Nesbit became the wife of Harry K. Thaw previous to her relating to him the story of wrongs at the hands of Stanford White is now in the possession of District Attorney Jerome, according to a sensational story published today.

The marriage was performed, according to the latest story, during the first visit of the couple to Paris in 1903.

The information is said to have reached the District Attorney through Nina Farrington, an actress, who is said to have written a friend in New York, telling of the marriage of Thaw and Evelyn. In this letter, Miss Farrington declared that Thaw was denying the marriage in the hope that he might return to America and secure the forgiveness of his family before the news became public.

Dr. Evans was called as the first witness.

Jerome and Dr. Evans locked horns almost as soon as the examination began. Jerome tried to force Dr. Evans to give yes or no answers to certain questions, and this the witness declined to do. Again and again the same questions were again repeated and Dr. Evans parried them with evasive answers.

After a long and tedious examination of Dr. Evans the court took a recess until 2:15 o'clock. When court reconvened the doctor was recalled.

Sensational Revelations.

Paris, Feb. 28.—Numerous sensational details of the inside history of the Algeciras conference which ultimately reached a solution of the Moroccan question, will be revealed in an article in the Revue Des Deux Mondes tomorrow, written by Andre Jardieu foreign editor of the Temps.

Most starting of his statements is that President Roosevelt effectually checked a plan of Kaiser William to foist what was known as the Austrian proposal on the conference.

M. Jardieu declares that when the conference was at a critical point Count Witte appealed to Kaiser William. The Kaiser absolutely refused.

President Roosevelt intertened, reminding the Kaiser of a promise he had made in June, 1905, to accept the resolution regarded by the United States as equitable. Kaiser William again refused stating that the "Austrian scheme" was acceptable to Italy, Russia and Spain, and asserting that only the United States was supporting France.

President Roosevelt, according to M. Jardieu, sent three categorical refusals of Emperor William's plan. He went so far as to declare that if the Monroe Doctrine had not prevented, he would combat the scheme as opening the way to the division of Morocco through "spheres of influence".

A plan proposed by Austria was finally adopted, but it was not the original "Austrian scheme" referred to.

Impending Strike.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Deadlocked on the question of hours and wages with the managers of forty-nine railroads west, southwest and northwest of Chicago, the chiefs of the trainmen's and conductors' brotherhoods have authorized a strike order. Ballots have been furnished to the brotherhood officials present at the conference here, and many have already left to call votes on the strike. The lines involved embrace 55 per cent of the mileage in the United States and Canada. The brotherhoods include 50,000 men, and as many more will be affected in the event of a strike. If the men vote to walk out, the greatest railroad tieup in history will be precipitated. The strike order followed seven weeks' negotiations between the railroads and brotherhood representatives.

Floating Hospital.

New York, Feb. 28. — A veritable floating hospital, the battleship Connecticut, Captain Swift commanding, steamed into port today, ending a four days' race with death. Thirty-one members of the crew are in a critical condition with maligant typhoid fever, and a number of others are indisposed. It seems certain that a number of deaths will result. The battleship came direct from Porto Rican waters where the epidemic broke out while the American fleet was cruising about the West Indies.

Found Guilty of Conspiracy.

Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—General Manager C. M. Kinnaird of the Crystal Ice Manufacturing and Cold Storage Company, and Vice President and Manager W. F. Polley, of the Franklin Ice Company, were found guilty last night of conspiracy in retraint of trade, for which they were indicted, following the recent ice trust investigation. Four other individuals and five companies with whom they were tried jointly, are acquitted. An appeal will be taken.

The Southerners are urging the President to appoint Contractor J. Oliver a member of the Panama Canal Commission. Oliver says he would not accept the position and that Mr. Roosevelt promised him the contract. The corporation organized by Mr. Oliver, and known as the Panama Canal Construction Company, will at once be dissolved. Mr. Oliver says that he has spent $40,000 in the preparation of bids and in the organization of the construction company.

and a quick one—that's the way your house and furniture may go any day—it may happen in ten thousand ways.

Can you afford to have a dead loss? A few dollars each year will protect you from loss, and keep you from semi-hysterics every time you smell smoke or some one yells "Fire."

TODAY

That's the word, and "a word to the wise is sufficient." Insure today; your home or furniture may burn tomorrow.

We represent four fire insurance companies that never failed or delayed payment of a just claim. Better have our agent call and talk insurance.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 28, 1907.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 6:34 a. m. and sets at 5:54 p. m. High water at 8:41 a. m. and 9:01 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section snow or rain with rising temperature tonight. Friday rain or snow; fresh northeasterly winds, becoming southeasterly.

Maccabees Banquet.

Alexandria Tent No. 2, Knights of the Maccabees, are perfecting arrangements for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the local organization and for the annual banquet of the tent. The banquet, which will be held in the Elkton Hotel building next Monday evening, will be made the occasion of the anniversary observance. It is expected that about a hundred of the members and guests will be seated at the tables. Among those who will respond to toasts are D. W Gall, of Washington, State commander of the order, and O. W. Hammond, also of Washington, lieutenant commander of uniform rank. Several Alexandrians are also expected to deliver addresses. Mr. Ashby Bladen, of Alexandria Tent, will act as toastmaster. During the ten years' existence of Alexandria Tent, with a general average membership of 75, not a single member has been lost by death.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

Officers Jones and Lyles yesterday ascertained that Samuel Durham, colored, was walking about the city with a pistol in his pocket. They later located him in a house in the northeastern section of the city and took him in custody, and when the prisoner was searched at the station house the weapon was found on his person. Durham was brought before Justice Caton this morning, when it was learned that on two occasions during the past few days he had chased his wife about the house at the pistol's point and caused the woman to jump from a second-story window. The accused was fined $50. A negro named Nathan Phillips, who was charged with aiding Durham to evade the officers, was fined $5.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Samuel Murry, colored arrested by Lieutenant Smith charged with assaulting Samuel Smith, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Samuel Durham, colored, arrested by Officers Jones and Lyles, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was fined $50.

Nathan Phillips, colored, arrested by the same officers charged with aiding a prisoner to escape, was fined $5.

Lewis Cronk, arrested by Officers Gill and Talbot charged with stealing from the Southern Railway depot, was fined $10.

I. O. O. F.

Tomorrow, Friday evening, Eastern Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Washington, will visit Potomac Lodge, No. 38, of this city, and the former lodge will have its degree team confer the initiatory degree. This degree team is considerd one of the finest in Washington, and the members of the I. O. O. F. will make an extra effort to be present to witness the work. A special train has been chartered and the visitors will reach here at 7:30 p. m. A large number of the grand officers of the District will also be present, among whom will be the grand master and deputy grand master.

Case Postponed.

The case of Joseph Timbers, colored, charged with cutting Rose Newman, also colored, was called in the Police Court this morning, but owing to the absence of the victim, who is said to be in a serious condition, the case was continued for ten days. A young colored woman testified that the cutting took place during the holidays at "Luna Park," the name given a saloon in the southwestern section of the city. Timbers, in his statement, said the assault was committed down the river.

Social Organization.

A new social organization has been perfected among some of the young girls of the city, known as the Red, White and Red Club, and officered as follows: Ruth Watkins, president; Pearl Schwartzman, vice president; Edna Mae Baader, secretary; Josephine Steiner, treasurer. They meet alternately every Wednesday afternoon at the homes of the members, after which refreshments are served. The next meeting will occur at the home of Miss Edna Mae Baader, March 6th.

Petition.

The petition requesting Governor Swanson to appoint Mr. J. M. Johnson, of this city, to the judgeship of this circuit, in case Judge Nicol should resign, has been signed by a majority of the bar of this city, by the entire bar of Prince William county and by a majority of the bar of Alexandria county. The petition also bears the signatures of over 700 business men and prominent citizens of Alexandria. It is said to be one of the strongest petitions ever gotten up in this city.

Reception to Former Pastor.

After the prayer meeting services at the Methodist Episcopal Church last night an informal reunion between the congregation and the former pastor of the church, Rev. J. P. Stump, now stationed at Luray, took place. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Stump, at the conclusion of which a half hour was spent in social intercourse. Mr. Stump during his stay in Alexandria is a guest of Capt. William B. Smithers, at his home on north Columbus street.

Southern's Purchasing Agent.

The Southern Railway today announces the appointment of A. Gordon Jones as purchasing agent of the road, with office at Washington, D. C., vice Col. Jos. P. Minetree, deceased. The appointment is effective March 1. Mr. Jones has many friends in this city, where he formerly lived.

Basketball.

The Alexandria Athletic Association basketball team will play the Tanglewoods, of Washington, tonight at their hall, 1002 King street. The game will be called at 8:30 o'clock.

Personal.

Miss Caroline Wise, who has been spending the past month with her sister, Mrs. T. C. Darst, in Richmond, has returned to her home near this city.

Mr. John Parker is ill at his home on south St. Asaph street.

At the annual banquet given in Washington on Tuesday evening by members of the University of Virginia Alumni Association of Washington, the following gentlemen from this city and vicinity were present. Gardner L. Boothe, Dr. Richard S. Blackburn, Angus Crawford, Dr. J. D. Gatewood, Dr. L. S. Greene, Thomas L. Hume, Dr. Howard Hume, Archie R Hoxton, Marshall L. King, Richard D. Micou, Dr. Hugh McGuire, Benjamin Micou, and Judge J. K. M. Norton. Dr. Thomas Nelson Page presided, and speeches were made by Senator Carmack of Tennessee, Dr. Alderman, Representative H. D. Flood, Representative Swager Sherley, and Dr. John C. Wise.

Rev. Mr. Howden of St. John's Church, Georgetown, will preach at Christ Church tonight.

Mr. Joseph Martin, jr., is very ill at his home on Duke street.

At the meeting last night of the Alexandria Home Fire Insurance Company, Mr. Harry White was elected secretary and treasurer.

Among the Alexandrians in Richmond are Messrs. J. R. Caton and Thos. B. Murphy.

Mr. R. Lindsay Gordon, of Louisa, a candidate for Congress from this district, was in this city today on an electioneering visit.

Mr. Wm. Linden Leatherland and Miss Hattie Schaver, of Cesanova, were married by J. C. Jeffers, on the 20th instant.

An Alexandria Candidate.

As has been previously announced, Mr. C. C. Carlin, of this city, is a candidate for the democratic nomination for Congress from this district. His friends are earnestly urging his claims as the successor of the late John F. Rixey, and regard him as a formidable competitor in the race. Mr. Carlin is probably one of the most generally known of Alexandria's citizens, and almost since early manhood has been equally as well-known throughout the district. His ability for the position he seeks his friends claim is unquestioned, and his supporters feel confident that should he be elected he will devote his entire attention to the interests of Alexandria and the district. His champions urge the fact that Alexandria is the only city in the district, and that occasionally, at least, a representative from this city should be sent to Congress. Mr. Carlin's prominence in the political world is the result of his own individual labors, he having passed from rung to rung of the ladder by his own perseverance.

Fined Ten Dollars.

Among the cases before the Police Court this morning was that of Lewis Cronk, a white man, who had been arrested by Officers Gill and Talbot charged with secreting brass journals belonging to the Southern Railway Company behind a bill board at the southwest corner of Wilkes and Patrick streets. The brasses had previously been hidden under a bridge over the gutter on the north side of the street. Witnesses testified to seeing the prisoner take the articles from their hiding place and secrete them behind the bill board. Cronk said he was drunk at the time and had acted in an irresponsible manner. He was fined $10.

Stone Battle.

Another battle between white and colored boys who attend public schools took place about noon today on Wolfe street, between Washington and Pitt, during which a stone was thrown through one of the windows of the Alexandria Hospital. These disorders are of daily occurrence, and the names of the youths who precipitate them should be secured, and they be made to understand that they can be expelled from the schools for such conduct.

Family Theatre.

A complete change of programme will be offered at the Family Theatre tonight, the following new pictures being a careful selection of the market's best subjects: "The Great Train Robbery," "Scenes from St. Angela," "The Great Steeple Chase," "The Heart Governs the Head," and "The Train Wreckers." Tom Moore will sing new illustrated songs.

Death of a Conductor.

Conductor Alvin E. McClary, of the Southern Railway, died at Lynchburg, at an early hour this morning. His death was caused by meningitis. The deceased had been ill but a few days. Mr. McClary was a native of Orange county, but had resided in this city for a long time, where he had many friends. He leaves a widow and several children.

LOCAL BRIEFITIES.

The last day of the last winter month.

The mercury in the thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 25°.

A meeting of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, was held last night. Two new members were initiated.

A marriage license was issued in Washington yesterday to Emmett M. Edwards and Mary E. Soper, both of The Plains.

During the month the Clerk of the Corporation Court has recorded 38 deeds and issued 23 marriage licenses—17 to white and 6 to colored persons.

George Martin, colored, a shoemaker, living at the corner of Franklin and St. Asaph streets, died last night. He had been suffering from pneumonia.

At the services at Grace Episcopal Church last night an interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. Neilson Barry, of St. Albans Church, Washington.

A few shad are still exhibited in market. Some specimens sell at 50 cents, but fine roe bring as much as $1.25, while the better varieties of melt sell at 75 cents.

The corporation fish wharf will be let for the coming season to the highest bidder at an auction to be held at the Royal street entrance to the city hall at noon Saturday.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Citizens' National Bank, held this morning, appropriate resolutions concerning the death of Mr. W. F. Lambert, vice president of the bank, were adopted.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia yesterday forwarded to Congress their report on the "broad tire" bill, which proposes to require vehicles weighing, when loaded, more than 4,000 pounds, to have four-inch tires. The Commissioners consider the measure too stringent and refuse to indorse it.

FRANK LAMBERT.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

Alexandria has had no finer type of man than Frank Lambert, whose death we all deplore. Young, virile, progressive, he was a representative citizen in the best meaning of that term—representative of the Alexandria of today and of the greater city to come.

An Alexandrian by birth, he was always one of us. He loved Alexandria and we all loved him, because he was always on the alert to further the interests of Alexandria and to help those who would do the right; it made no difference in what station in life he was called from, be he professional, business or a laboring man. His business successes, the expansion of his material interests, did not warp his kindly nature, but put him into closer, more sympathetic touch with his fellow men. He was helpful to them. His heart was warm, his impulses generous and his hand clasp cordial.

Friendship such as he gave—a friendship withheld from none deserving of it—was an asset of value in every day affair beyond worldly appraisements. In the passing of such a man this community sustained an irreparable loss.

To individual Alexandrians, the writer among that large number, his death means a personal bereavement second only to that felt by his grief-stricken family. The consolation to be had, the reconciliation to be found, is in the lesson of his life—a lesson that speaks for helpfulness, for progressiveness, for high ideals, for cleanly business methods and for right living. What better lesson can any man's life teach.

ROBERT E. KNIGHT.

"Everybody Should Know"

says C. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and I know what I'm talking about.' Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Our store will be open every night during the remaining period of the Great Quits Sale.

Books to Read.

We wish to call especial attention to our magnificent Book Store. This is not a department in the ordinary sense of the word—a little space where books are piled up and shown or sold—but a grand, comprehensive book store, well rounded and complete. A place where a bookish atmosphere prevails, where books abound, and where any information pertaining to books may be obtained.

We keep on hand at all times a complete assortment of all modern and current literature—that which is in constant demand—selecting always the best where there is any choice, and we are prepared and ready at all times to order any book, publishe anywhere in the world, that may be desired by our patrons.

Tomorrow Friday, Is

REMNANT DAY.

A whole lot of pretty, useful things to adorn the person and to brighten and make the home more comfortable may be planned from the large and varied collection of remnants to be found here tomorrow—and at very little expenditures of money.

Bargains all over the store. This week's odd lots, broken assortments, one-of-kind things, short lengths—remnants of whatever kind, added to the extraordinary values that have been secured by our corps of buyers—afford most unusual opportunities for the economically inclined.

The Electric Light

Is the Only Convenient, Safe and Altogether Reliable Artificial Light in Existence.

You do not have to deface your walls striking matches, and you do not have an open flame which is always a source of danger. In short, wherever electric lights are used all heat, danger from fire, impure air and other dangerous annoyances are eliminated.

Electricity Only Costs Half as Much as Gas.

AUCTION SALES.

PURSUANT TO DECREE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT, of Fairfax county, Va., in the suit of Greenfield vs. Kerby, therein pending, the undersigned commissioner of sale will about 12 o'clock (noon), on the 14th day of March, 1907,

THURSDAY,

offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Market House (Royal street entrance), in the city of Alexandria, Va., that track of land located in Mt. Vernon magisterial district, Fairfax county, Va., containing 85 acres (family graveyard reserved), being part of the old Samuel Collard real estate. The land is improved by dwelling house, barn and other buildings, and orchard. The land is of good quality and the location is exceptionally good, being a public road leading to Alexandria city and about 3½ miles south of said city. It is valuable for trucking or as a dairy farm.

Terms of sale:

One-third cash and the residue in two equal payments at six and twelve months from the day of sale, evidenced by the purchaser's interest bearing notes and secured by retention of title until the last payment is made.

THOMAS R. KEITH,
Commissioner of sale.

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county, Va.

I, W. E. Graham, Deputy Clerk of said Court, do certify that the bond required of the commissioner of sale in the above matter has been executed by him with approved surety. Given under my hand this 15th of Februray, 1907.

Thief Located.

The mystery of the theft of $173 000 from the Chicago subtreasury has been cleared. The daring robbery was not the work of government employes who fell before temptation or of workmen employed in making repairs about the subtreasury. Instead it was a big business man who engineered the colossal theft. Whether he had assistance among employes of the office is as yet unknown. The identity of the business man is known to the government secret service agents. He is now under surveillance. One of the missing $1,000 bills has been traced, and the recovery of the remaining $172 000 and the arrest of the culprit will follow before tomorrow night.

Conclusive evidence has been secured against a man of such local importance that it will cause a profound shock when his name becomes public. This man, is alleged, went to the subtreasury in the ordinary course of business, saw an opportunity to snatch a fortune with little prospect of trouble and took advantage of it. Armed with an ordinary ruler, he reached through the netting and knocked a small package from the desk to the floor, where it was within easy reach because of a three-inch space between the bottom of the cage screen and the floor.

The package contained 17 bills of $10,000 each and three bills of $1,000 each. It was not more than a thirty-second part of an inch thick.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste are so closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. If safe even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

All headaches go
When you grow wiser
And learn to use
An "Early Riser."
DeWitt's Little Early Risers, safe, sure pills.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against Opium and narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Piles of people have Piles. Why suffer from piles when you can use DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve and get relief. Nothing else so good. Beware of imitations. See that the name is stamped on each box. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.
